

Skills for Business

Effective Questioning & Listening Skills

Course Description

Duration and structure

This workshop runs over one day and is a practical workshop involving theory and delegate input through group work and exercises to allow you to develop your questioning and listening skills

After this workshop delegates will be able to:

- Gain new information through effective questioning techniques
- Listening for feeling and meaning behind what is said
- “Hear” what is not said
- Check understanding and gain clarification
- Build their confidence in communicating face to face and over the telephone

Who Should Attend?

This workshop is aimed at anyone who deals with others on a day to day basis. Being able to communicate effectively is an essential skill for building strong and durable business relationships and effective questioning and listening is invaluable in increasing sales and productivity.
